

Jordi Torrent

After obtaining a degree in Philosophy at the University of Barcelona, Jordi followed graduate studies in Paris at the Sorbonne University (Film Esthetics) and at the Ecole Pratique des Hautes Etudes (Anthropology Filmmaking).

In addition to his extensive career as writer, producer and director in the film and television industry, Jordi was a Media Consultant for the Department of Education of New York City from 1990 to 2006. There he created a Media Literacy Education program that was implemented in over twenty five NYC schools; he also conducted media education workshops for teachers and parents. Jordi was Media Curator of Exit Art (New York) from 1985 to 1990 where he developed and presented a wide range of film and video programs. From 1980 to 1983 Jordi was the Paris-based correspondent for the film magazine Casablanca and the video and technology magazine Video Actualidad. In addition, Jordi has also published in Liberation, El Pais, the CNTV magazine and at OETI's journal. Jordi is co-director of Media: Overseas Conversations, a series of annual conferences on media, youth and education held in New York since 2004. Currently he is Project Manager for the Media Literacy Education program of the United Nations-Alliance of Civilizations.
